About Kristin

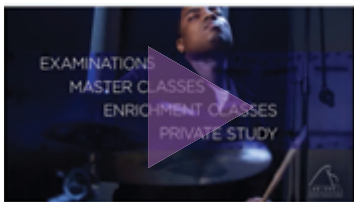

As the founder of the Centre for Musical Minds, Ms. Yost comes with extensive teaching, communication and leadership experience. Yost received her B.A. from the University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire, and her M.M. in Piano Performance and Pedagogy from Southern Methodist University, studying under Dr. Donald Patterson, Dr. Sam Holland, Mr. Matthew Kline and renowned pianist, Mr. Alfred Mouledous. Yost has brought herself and the Centre for Musical Minds to an international audience by her innovative and extraordinary ability to get results. She became a certified teacher with MTNA in 2006, and with The Royal Conservatory in 2016. Yost sees each of her students as collections of strengths and is passionate about bringing those qualities out for each person that walks through her door. From classical to pop and beyond, Yost has an uncanny ability to help each student realize his/her highest potential.

Kristin is one of the most creative and forward-thinking music educators I have ever met. She has the unique gift of setting a high standard for her students while at the same time lighting their creative sparks.
